SUPERVISOR STEVE F. TAYLOR NAMED CHAIRMAN OF ECONOMIC AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE

New Chairman Says Economic Development is a Key to Quality of Life in Milwaukee County

Milwaukee County Board Chairman Theo Lipscomb, Sr., today named Supervisor Steve F. Taylor as Chairman of the Economic and Community Development Committee.

“Economic development is one of the crucial issues facing Milwaukee County,” Taylor said. “We need to create jobs and provide economic opportunities for all County residents. As Chairman of the committee, I want to help develop policies that will make Milwaukee County more business-friendly. One of the best ways to improve the lives of those in our community is to bring business to the County while creating jobs that can support families.

“I am committed to the idea that economic development is a key to the quality of life in Milwaukee County. As Chairman of the committee, I will work to initiate and implement policies that benefit our economy and create jobs. I look forward to working with my colleagues on the committee and on the County Board to create those kinds of policies. I want to make Milwaukee County a business-friendly environment that will generate economic growth in the community.”

Taylor was elected to the County Board in April, 2012 to represent the 9th District, which includes Hales Corners and parts of Franklin and Oak Creek. He has served on the Economic and Community Development Committee as well as the Parks, Energy and Environment Committee and the Transportation, Public Works and Transit Committee since he was elected.
